TANATEX Wins Best Circular Economy Award at PCIAW® 2024

TANATEX Chemicals Celebrated for Excellence in Circular Economy Innovation at PCIAW® Awards 2024

TANATEX Chemicals is thrilled to announce its recognition as the winner of the Best Circular Economy Initiative at the highly esteemed PCIAW® Awards 2024, held at The Vox in Birmingham, UK. This accolade underscores the company's commitment to driving sustainability within the professional clothing industry.

The award highlights TANATEX's pioneering efforts in implementing circular economy principles across its operations. By championing closed-loop systems, enhancing product longevity, and reducing environmental impact, TANATEX has demonstrated how sustainable practices can harmonize with innovative product design and functionality.

Ged Doyle, Global Brand & Retail Director at TANATEX, shared: "This award is a testament to our team's dedication to not only help innovating exceptional workwear but also contributing to a more sustainable future. We are honored to be recognized by PCIAW®, and we will continue to lead the way in setting industry standards for environmental stewardship."

The PCIAW® Awards serve as a premier platform celebrating advancements in uniform, workwear, and PPE industries. Winning this prestigious award reflects TANATEX's role as a frontrunner in redefining professional clothing through sustainable innovation.
