IGM 2022 Hosts Leading Brands of the Garment Machinery Industry

IGM 2022 Exhibition, which brings together all the technologies utilized in garment and ready-to-wear production at the same address for 26 years, brings together leading machinery manufacturers with investors after a 4-year break. Opening its doors for the 27th time at Tüyap Fair and Congress Center, IGM 2022 will host thousands of visitors and global buyers from all over the world for 4 days.

IGM 2022- Istanbul 27th International Garment Machinery, Spare Parts and Sub- Industry Exhibition, one of the largest exhibitions in Europe and one of the most important exhibitions in the world, will be held at Tüyap Fair and Congress Center on September 8-11, 2022. Organized in partnership with Tüyap & Teknik Fairs Inc. and in cooperation with KOMİD - Garment Automation Machinery Manufacturers Association and İNSAD - Istanbul Embroidery Industrialists Association, IGM 2022 is the first and only international garment machinery exhibition in Turkey.

Ready-to-Wear Investors Come Together with Machinery Manufacturers Exporting to the World

IGM 2022 Exhibition, which has been contributing to and hosting the development of the garment machinery industry in Turkey for many years, once again brings together ready-to-wear investors with machinery manufacturers exporting to the world. Global garment manufacturers, who prefer IGM 2022 Exhibition organized at Tüyap to direct their garment machinery investments, are also excited to meet in Istanbul again after the mandatory hiatus caused by the measures taken against the pandemic.

Leading manufacturers exporting to the world in the field of garment machinery are looking forward to introducing their latest technologies for the first time at the IGM 2022 Exhibition. Professional visitors, procurement delegations and investors from all over the world prefer IGM 2022 Exhibition to see the latest technologies closely.

All Technologies Utilized in Apparel and Ready-to-Wear Production at IGM 2022

The IGM 2022 Exhibition, which has set out with the slogan ‘‘Let's Design the Future’’, includes all technologies used in garment and ready-to-wear production, from sewing to cutting, ironing systems to packaging, embroidery to printing. In addition, logistics services, hanger and storage systems, quality control machines, as well as all accessories used in production, from sewing thread to buttons and zippers, from fabric to labels, are also on display.

At the IGM Exhibition, where innovation will be embroidered thread by thread; designs that color and beautify life meet the latest models of the machines and technologies that shape the world fashion industry.

IGM 2022 Exhibition Will Contribute to the Development of World Trade Volume

Istanbul, the center of the world textile and ready-to-wear trade, is hosting this great meeting.
