PDS Limited Triumphs in Sustainability: Achieves Top-tier ESG Performance in S&P Global CSA 2022

PDS Limited, the international fashion infrastructure giant, proudly announced its outstanding results in the S&P Global Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA) Index .

In its inaugural participation in the S&P Global CSA, PDS solidified its place amongst the highest-ranking companies, scoring in the 93rd percentile for Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) performance within the Textile, Apparel, and Luxury Goods Industry. The comprehensive 2022 S&P Global CSA evaluated over 7,800 firms across 61 different sectors.

Pallak Seth, Executive Vice Chairman of PDS, reflected on the achievement, stating, "We firmly believe that responsible business extends beyond steady performance to include the creation of long-term value for stakeholders, all while advocating for a fair and sustainable future. These high scores bolster our commitment to be part of the solution, driving our investment in technologies that enable the fashion value chain to pursue sustainable innovation."

Group CEO Sanjay Jain added, "Our commitment at PDS is to achieve operational excellence without compromising sustainable practices. We actively collaborate with a range of stakeholders, both internal and external, to meet our sustainability objectives. This includes enforcing a zero-tolerance violation policy across our operations and investing in science-based innovative solutions."

Sustainability remains at the heart of PDS's ethos and operations. The company's strategy is underpinned by four sustainability pillars: Respect Water, Reduce Emission, Think Circular, and Build Community. The robust scores from the S&P Global CSA serve as a meaningful measure of PDS’s sustainability efforts and provide guidance for its effective sustainability agenda in the forthcoming years.
