

Kornit Digital's Latest Impact Report Affirms Dedication to Eco-Friendly Fashion and Textiles

Kornit Digital LTD. (NASDAQ: KRNT), a global pioneer in eco-friendly, on-the-spot digital fashion and textile production techniques, unveiled its 2022 Impact Report today. This marks their third consecutive annual report, emphasizing Kornit's ongoing strides in areas like climate change action, effective waste handling, the application of green chemistry, and fostering diversity in the workplace. It stands as a testament to Kornit's unwavering dedication towards implementing an Environmental, Social, and Corporate Governance (ESG) strategy that sets the course for a fashion and textile industry that is more ethical and remarkably greener.

Ronen Samuel, CEO of Kornit Digital, remarked, "Being at the forefront of fashion and textiles, we deeply recognize our duty to cultivate an industry that not only prioritizes cleanliness and safety but also champions responsibility and diversity. We view our role as a catalyst for long-standing, positive shifts in the sector. This entails empowering our clients to adopt greener practices, while also mitigating the social and environmental footprint of our activities. Our 2022 Impact Report stands as a clear testament to our pledge of reshaping the sector and building a more prosperous and sustainable future for our global community."
